THE Confederate reunion will occur at Dallas, Texas, this year, at the earliest date it was ever held, April 22-25. The ranks of the dear old fellows who wore the gray are being rapidly thinned and each year sees many of the faces of the last meeting missing. It will not be long before the last of them answers to the roll call and rests with Jackson "under the shade of the trees." Every one, therefore, who can attend the Dallas meeting should do so. It will probably be the last of a great many of them and they should give their friends the pleasure of once more beholding them in the flesh. The United King-United States and his democratic con- dom alliance, the most prominent temperance body, shows signs of a wide difference of opinion within its ranks. While some of its members are holdmaking a promise before election to ing fast to the total abstinence idea, others are inclined to leave the alliance and join hands with any who aim at restricting rather than prohibiting the consumption of liquor.

They say that more people drink, and on the average, drink more than formerly, and yet there is less drunkerness prevalent. They hold that wise restriction conduces not to abstinence but to temperance, that it controls excess and allows sociability without the license of sprees. In the same tenor is the opinion of Henry S. Pritchett, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He claims to advocate true temperance and believes that the interests of temperance are better served by treating the question of teetotalism as a less importont matter. He prefers to have students congregate where beer is under control of the institute than to have them go where the use of beer is unlimited. Few questions of the day are as important as this. Since prohibition is impossible, it may be in the best interests of temperance that its advocates seek some practical way that will lead to true reformation and not to hypo-

To Cure the Stammerer.

It is said that stammerers rarely if ever show any impediment of speech when speaking in whispers. On this fact a method of treatment has been advocated, which is as follows: For the first ten days speaking is prohibited. This will allow rest to the voice and constitutes the preliminary stage of treatment. During the next ten days speaking is permissible in the whispering voice, and in the course of the next fifteen days the ordinary conversational tone may be gradually employed.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that seitence has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials, Address, alals, Address, F. J.
